WELCOME TO #ECGeogNetwork

Hello!

Welcome to November's newsletter where we share the content for this month and upcoming opportunities and news. For the first time, we have themed our website. This month is 'Biodiversity Month' – inspired by David Attenborough's BBC Show 'Extinction: The Facts'. We hope it is useful!

November marks the 6th month #ECGeogNetwork has been functional. I want to take this opportunity to thank some people! To our leadership team and ambassadors, thank you. Your continued hard work, support and generosity of spirit helps keep the network running and your support has been invaluable. To our wonderful followers, we do it for you! Your messages of support have been encouraging to read and we hope you have found the network useful. Keep a look out for some exciting things to come in the future!

Top 5 - Supporting a 'non-specialist'

1. Twitter. Always ask for help if you need it, there is always someone who can help.
2. Books. Whether its pedagogical or content, there is always something new to learn.
3. Documentaries. Watching them counts as CPD and is good to discuss with students too.
4. Specialists. Those in your department with more experience usually have something of use, don't reinvent the wheel every time.
5. Away Days. Get out to CPD events such as ResearchEd, they are jam packed full of great speakers and a brilliant way to network.

NATURE SIGHTINGS

As humans socially distance nature is returning! A group of 14 elephants broke into avillage in Yunan province, looking for food. They ended up drinking 30kg of corn wine and got so drunk they fell asleep in a nearby tea garden.

Hope that makes you laugh!
